BETHLEHEM BELLS ring out over thi tiny Judean village in a chorus o gladness each Christmas.

Christmas Is a Birthday

December.
The earth lies in silence,
Dead silence.
Still, unmoving.
The night is cold and dark.
Silently waiting,
Breathlessly waiting,
Waiting in expectation of the com ing Deliverer.
Into this cold, silent night comes Child.
And dawn breaks.

Tennessee Union Organizes

November 5, 1969, is a historic date for Tennessee Christian Endeavor, for on that day the Tennessee Union was reactivated. The union had been inactive for over ten years.

The reorganization took place while Arch J. McQuilkin, assistant to the president of the International Society, was in the state for several weeks doing extension work.

The reorganization meeting was held at Northport Christian Church in Newport. The new officers installed by Mr. McQuilkin include: Mrs. Olin F. Badeaux, president; Mrs. Frances Shelley, vice-president; James E. Shelley, secretary-treasurer; Lynn M. McKnight, field secretary; and Olin F. Badeaux, pastor counselor. The union office address is R. #2, Box 73, Parrottsville.

The new officers at their first executive meeting took steps to promote the work. Union stationery is being printed immediately. The extension work begun by Mr. McQuilkin will be followed up and additional contacts made.

Mr. Badeaux, who is pastor of the Northport Christian Church, is vice-president of the International Society in charge of the Southern Region, which includes Tennessee.

Action in Florida

Following his work in Tennessee, Mr. McQuilkin spent over a week in Florida contacting ministers and society leaders under the direction of Rev. Chester D. Hirschy of Orlando. Mr. Hirschy, former Ohio Union president, arranged contacts for Mr. McQuilkin in Orlando, Daytona Beach, Gainesville, and other areas. It is hoped the Florida Union, inactive since the early 1950's, may also soon be reactivated.

Real or Phony Discipleship?

By Diann Tippery

What? Me a phony? Oh, come on, you must be kidding! Of course I'm a Christian! What's that you said? A real Christian?

Am I for real? Is my Christianity a farce? It is something that I pull out of the drawer, where it has been all week, and put on on Sunday morning?

I'm a senior in high school, and I know it's hard to be "real," and not a carbon copy of someone else. You go through most of your early teen years with someone else's opinions and finally the time comes when you have to develop your own. But sometimes it's quite difficult to stand up for what you believe in when your opinion is different from that of the crowd. And then, what if you do stand up to be counted. How do the other kids feel toward you? Often your popularity seems to decline when you take a firm stand on your Christian beliefs. I think God sometimes gives us friends who continually question our beliefs so that He is able to test us. I, for one, have failed many of His tests, but because of His mercy He has forgiven me.

Young people aren't the only ones who can be phony Christians. Some adults can be just as phony as a three-dollar bill. Some may come to church on Sunday morning out of habit only, and still others may accept church offices without a real willingness to serve. How's that for an example to young people?

Does the Lord want phonies working for Him? Does He want "salesmen" who only believe in about 25 percent of His product? I don't think so. The Lord wants us to really get out and work for Him. He wants someone who is strong and firm, and whose backbone isn't made out of spaghetti.

How do you become a real Christian? The first thing is to humble yourself before God, and tell Him you are a sinner. It's a great feeling when you can talk to the Lord. Get down on your knees and pray to Him. The Lord understands simple English, so don't think you can't talk to Him if you don't have a college education. He is always willing to listen. We teen-agers do have problems. At times we feel very alone and have no one to share our problems with. But remember, the Lord is always there; just open your heart, and let Him come in.

Another thing to do is to stay acquainted with the Lord. Have personal devotions daily. I find that the best time for me to have devotions is right before I go to bed. What better way to end the day than to talk to someone you love?

A real Christian keeps striving to find God's will for his life. He doesn't expect to find it out after one short prayer, but after long talks with God. He is also willing to accept God's will. The Lord will help and guide you, just ask Him to.

How long can you live in your phony world? How long do you think you will be able to fool your friends? Do you think you're fooling God? Ask yourself: "Christ — am I for real?"

Australians Prepare For Melbourne Convention

Endeavorers in Australia are making final plans for the national convention January 9-16, 1970, in Melbourne. Theme will be "Christ and the Youth Revolution."

Delegates will share in an intensive program of activities, including depth Bible studies, leadership seminars, and membership training. The theme will be related to Christian Endeavor leaders, members, their churches, education, national citizenship, the world church, mission service, and personal discipleship. There will be two open air demonstrations plus convention tours.

Speakers include The Right Rev. Solomon Doraisawmy, president of the India Union, and Dr. Clyde W. Meadows of the U.S.A., World's Union president.

Attendance of 3,000 is expected. A delegation from New Zealand and a group of New Guinea and Papuan native leaders also plan to be present.

Register Now for Canada

Endeavorers around the globe are eagerly anticipating the 16th World's Christian Endeavor Convention to be held August 19-23, 1970, at Kitchener-Waterloo, Ontario, Canada, under the theme "Christ Calls . . . Advance."

North American Endeavorers have the added attraction of the 50th International Convention which is being held concurrently with the world event.

The International Society has just announced a Canada 1970 Registration Contest for state unions in the United States and for the Mexican National Union. The Canadian Convention Committee is planning special registration efforts for societies and unions in Canada.

The registration contest begins January 2, 1970, and closes July 31. Report dates will be February 27, April 30, May 28, June 30, and the final date, July 31. At each report date the union which made the greatest increase toward its minimum goal during that period will receive a cash award of $10.

At the close of the contest banners will be awarded to the five unions attaining the highest percentage of their minimum goal. The union in first place will also be awarded housing and meal costs at the University of Waterloo during the convention for a representative to be chosen by the winning union. This includes five nights' lodging, Wednesday through Sunday, and all meals (beginning with Wednesday dinner through Sunday supper), worth a total of $38 (Canadian).

The number of registrations credited to each union December 31 will be used as the base in figuring the percentage of increase for the first report period.

Registration blanks and prayer cards are available from World's Union Headquarters in Columbus, Ohio.

Delegations Plan for Canada

Many unions in the United States are making plans for large delegations in Canada. West Virginia in the latest issue of its publication indicates one bus is committed, with another bus under consideration and

Youth Want Kicks, Commitment

Speaking to an audience of 2,600 young people in London, Ontario, recently, Dr. Leighton Ford acknowledged that youth today is a "turned on generation." He said that "kicks and commitment" are the hallmarks of their peers and that Jesus Christ speaks to them as no one else.

"Jesus Christ talks to us about a life that is worth everything you've got," he said during the two-week crusade, which made a strong impact on the youth.

Dr. Ford will be the closing speaker at the Canada 1970 Convention.

total delegation of 90 planned. Similar plans are under way in many areas — Texas, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, for instance. Delegations are urged to send plans to Columbus so they may be shared with other groups.

The British delegation plans a trip through the United States following the convention, including a stop at Christian Endeavor Headquarters. Australian Endeavorers will travel across the United States, hoping to meet with local groups in many cities, and will also visit Columbus. German Endeavorers are chartering a plane for their group. They have arranged with German friends in the Kitchener-Waterloo area to participate in a Bible camp; they will also visit the New York City area and Washington, D.C.

Enthusiasm is mounting around the world for Canada 1970 and it is hoped most of the organized national Christian Endeavor unions will be represented.

Five-Year Advance in Texas

The Texas Union has set up a five-year plan 1969-1974 with these goals:

- 30 new churches
- 7 revitalized districts
- Full-time general secretary
- Full-time office secretary
- Camp program for Juniors, Junior Highs, and Senior Highs
- Expanded budget of at least $15,000
- All Texas Christian Endeavor publications revised or updated
- Texas Christian Endeavor NEWS expanded
- Texas Union's Constitution and Bylaws revised

To achieve these goals a list of specific goals year by year has been adopted and detailed guidelines for officer participation for 1969-70 distributed. An attractive Forward Advance Flight Manual is being used by societies to record progress.

Jan Jennings is Texas president and Arthur C. Hammers is general secretary.

Evansville Youth Witness

The Evansville (Indiana) District Union sponsored a one-night program of Youth Witness October 23 at Terrace Parke General Baptist Church with Rev. John De Santo as speaker. The choir participated made up of youth from area churches, directed by Lowell Ward, and a number of youth presented special musical numbers. Jane Snow was program chairman.

Walk-a-thon for Missions

In accordance with the theme "Walk We in Him" the "Walk-a-thon for Missions" which opened this year's Ontario Convention was most appropriate. The participants walked eight miles, starting at Garrison Road United Brethren Church in Fort Erie and ending at Stevensville where the convention was held October 11-13.

Each walker secured sponsors who promised to give so much per mile walked. One walker had over $80 pledged. Each had a check sheet with names, addresses, amount pledged per mile, and amount earned. There were four check points along the way, with refreshments served at the second and third points. A total of almost $900 was pledged, which will go to Ontario Union's leprosy mission project.

SQUASH WINS AND WITNESSES — This squash won first prize for Rev. Clemens B. Farver, pastor of Maysville Community Church, Greenville, Pennsylvania. When the squash was small Mr. Farver cut the words, "Jesus said, 'I am the vine,' " into it; as the plant grew so did the words. Mr. Farver has three Christian Endeavor societies in his church and is also pastor counselor of Mercer County Union.

Juniors Advance

First society to achieve all four goals—evangelism, education, expression, and enlistment — under the current Forward Advance program is the Junior Society of Third Presbyterian Church, Petersburg, Virginia.

Cecil A. Slaughter, sponsor, reports these accomplishments.

Evangelism

Membership of the society when entering the program was 18 Juniors. Of these three were promoted to the Junior High Society. The Lookout Committee got busy, along with other society members, and soon the membership had increased to 19 Juniors and two associate members.

Christian Education

To achieve this goal the society held a study class for all Juniors and sponsors on six consecutive Sunday evenings on the Junior Christian Endeavor Story, combined with Christian Endeavor Essentials.

Expression

The society visited the Presbyterian Home at Zuni, Virginia, and took a picnic supper for all. After supper the Endeavorers presented a devotional program on the lawn.

The Juniors have taken a little three-year-old crippled girl as a project. For Christmas and Easter they provided her with a box of new clothing, candy, and fruit.

In addition, the children have taken baskets of fruit and other goodies to shut-in members of the church. They also helped the pastor by folding bulletins, distributing hand bills for revival services, and other work.

Enlistment

As a result of the training class, a new sponsor was secured and others enlisted to help on a part-time basis.

It is hoped to get more sponsors soon and to start a Primary Society.

This group has made financial contributions to the International Society, the Virginia Union, the Presbyterian Home at Zuni, and to other causes.

THE FORWARD ADVANCE PROGRAM IS OPEN TO INDIVIDUALS, SOCIETIES, AND UNIONS. WRITE TO COLUMBUS FOR DETAILS.

Endeavorer Wants Pen Pal

Reinhard Schumacher, German youth, would like to write to an American boy, 12 or 13 years of age, who knows at least some German. Reinhard's address is 5231 Racksen, ub. Altenkirden/Ww., Western Germany.

CELEBRATE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR WEEK

Christian Endeavor's 89th anniversary will be marked by special activities planned by many local societies and unions. Dates for this event are January 25 through February 1.

Using the theme "More Than Conquerors," activities will challenge Christian youth to witness to their faith in Christ and to seek to win other youth to Christ and His Church. Focus of the celebration will be February 2, the actual birthday of the movement, with special events planned during the months of January and February.

Included will be rallies, church services, conferences, banquets, parties, radio and television broadcasts, evangelistic visitations, leadership workshops, and many other projects.

For ideas to spark planning, a Christian Endeavor Week Packet is available at a cost of 75c. This kit is packed full of helps — a Planbook giving complete information with program suggestions, an order of worship, publicity ideas, banquet plans, and suggested activities; a Program for Radio or Television based on the needs of youth today and how Christian Endeavor meets those needs; plans for a More Than Conquerors Party; plus many other helps. Secure a Packet at once from Columbus Headquarters.

Each year pictures and reports of birthday week activities are featured in THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR WORLD. Groups are urged to arrange for photos (black and white prints are needed; good snapshots can sometimes be used) and send these with a full report, copy of program, etc., to the editor. Send items before February 2 for the March issue or by February 28 for the April issue.

Outdoor Evangelism

A unique part of the annual birthday emphasis is the Outdoor Poster Program. Colorful poster panels with the message "Young People — Come to Church" will be displayed during January and February in cooperation with individual outdoor poster companies which are members of the Outdoor Advertising Association of America, Inc.

Funds for missionray postings in Tennessee and Florida are being sought. Cost of the posters is $5 each. Send gifts to the International Society.

". . . AND THE CHURCH"

Win youth for Christ — and then? The Christian Endeavor point of view is: a person's acceptance of Christ is of prime importance—a glad day in one's life. But what comes next?

Jesus said, "I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life" (John 8:12).

How will you and I follow Him . . . with whom shall we walk in the light? The first who followed were the disciples, but many more believed, as the Master continued to teach and to heal; presently these were given work to do, a witness to declare (Luke 10:1-4, 17-20). To accept Christ was to labor with others similarly allied and inspired. What we now call the Church was beginning, through witnessing evangelism, fellowship, and service.

After Pentecost the winning of youth and others to allegiance to Christ enlarged this fellowship in Christ, so familiar in Christian Endeavor circles. The continued, day-by-day growth of the Church is recorded in Acts 2:41-47.

A person newly won to Christ needs the church, and its inspiration, fellowship, training, discipleship in action. The one who rejoices in many years of Christian faith also needs the church; here he may help others to learn to walk with the Saviour. No wonder Christian Endeavor emphasizes the words "For Christ and the Church." — B.H.D.

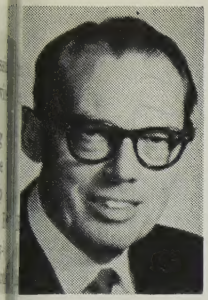
INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR



AS I SEE IT

Looking Across The President's Desk

By ELWOOD DUNN

Did you ever wonder about the internal operation of Christian Endeavor? How are decisions made? Who makes policy, chooses materials, etc.? How? Where? When? Well, I wondered, too. Let me tell you a little.

The International Society is a corporation composed of contributing members who make a minimum annual gift of $15. Many give more, of course.

Then there is an elected Board of Trustees, divided into eight classes. They range from denominational youth secretaries to specially selected youth.

The regular business of the movement is cared for by an elected Executive Committee of 25 members. They are selected for their interest and the geographic and work areas they represent. They meet at least two times a year and are responsible for the business of the International Society. They with appointed committees prepare and seek to raise the budget, care for the property, select the Staff, hear reports, assign responsibility, and generally promote the welfare of Christian Endeavor.

The educational policies, choice of materials, special activities, and all that relates to program stem largely from the Executives' Program Council. The Council is made up of representatives from the field of actual operation. It includes the employed or designated national directors of youth work in the denominations and the employed Christian Endeavor secretaries, including the International Society Staff. Also included are the Christian Endeavor state, provincial, and national union presidents of North America. An important part of this Council are the youth delegates named from the above unions and each denomination. There can be one youth from each. The Council works through the Educational Committee and the Age-level Interest Area Directors. All members of these groups not included in the above listing are made members of the Council. The age-level directors work with Junior, Junior High, Senior High-Young People's, and Young Adult and Adult age groups. They utilize the resources of and report to the Council.

A little known but most important group is the Educational Committee. It is composed of professional and practical leaders in the youth field. Here are the best educators we can secure. They consider program policies, and materials and report their recommendations to the Executives' Program Council for action.

Here is where you should make your program and materials recommendations. Every idea will be given consideration. The Educational Committee meets in Columbus December 2-3, 1969, followed by the Council December 4-7. Send your ideas to me or to the International Society Headquarters. Your help in improving our program will be most welcome.
